PENNSYLVANIA DELEGATES WORRY POLITICAL BOSSES

SPROUL EXPECTED TO GET THEIR VOTE ON FIRST BALLOT, BUT NO TELLING WHO WILL BE CHOICE AFTER THAT

VERMONT ALSO ELECTS TUESDAY

NEW YORK, May 15.—Pennsylvania with the second largest delegation to the big engine among the states still to elect their representatives to the Chicago convention. Politicians are employing every means to determine how this state's 74 delegates will be distributed after the election Tuesday; whether they will be for Governor Sproul, Senator Knox or Major Wood or distributed among the three.

There is a general belief that Sproul will get practically a unanimous vote from his own state on the first ballot but it is what Pennsylvania will do on the second and subsequent ballots that is bothering the politicians.

Unlike the elections in most states where he has had state support, Wood will be opposed by the Republican organization and Knox will have the support of Senator Penrose, state leader.

Although the Wood people are claiming an allegiance with Sproul, political observers are inclined to believe Governor will be put in a position of having to turn over all of the personal strength he may possess to Knox, a favorite son. Knox, of course, is Penrose's personal candidate. The only candidate entered in the Republican presidential primary in Pennsylvania is Edward Randolph Wood, of Philadelphia, no relative of the general. The practical politicians do not figure him in the running. Vermont also will select 8 delegates in the primaries Tuesday.

BIBLE MAINTAINS LEAD AS WORLD'S "BEST SELLER"

Those who are familiar with certain facts smile to themselves when they read a list of the "Ten Best Sellers." This is because of the fact that this list seldom, if ever, contains the name of the real leader. The best seller, day in and day out, month after month, year after year, is the Book of Books—the Bible.

To supply the great demand and to enlarge its field of usefulness, the Bible is printed in over 600 different languages and dialects. At the present time it is estimated that the Bible printed in an understandable language, is now available to seven out of every ten people in the world. The Bible itself is a most liberal education in English, in diction, poetry, romance, history, tragedy—all are encompassed within its pages. But many people do not know how to read the Bible. We often thought that ministers might stimulate the reading of this Book by outlining a comprehensive plan in a sermon or series of sermons.

The Bible was the first printed book from movable type. In the 485 years following, the Bible Society alone has distributed over 250,000,000 copies. Other societies and private publishing houses before and since, have distributed many other millions. And the demand does not lessen. Happily, it increases as the population of the world increases. Even beyond its moral teachings students find it the most gripping story of all time.

The world's best seller has a lead that in all probabilities the centuries will not overcome.—DuBois Courier.

DANIELS CHARGES TAFT AND ROOSEVELT WITH LETTING NAVY GO TOPOT

WASHINGTON, May 15.—Secretary Daniels today assailed the naval policy of former president Roosevelt and Taft, because they permitted the United States to lose its place as the world naval power in the world, and allow Germany to pass us. The great step in history in naval improvement was made under President Wilson, he declared. Continuing his denunciation before the Senate Naval investigating committee, Daniels asserted the Wilson administration on the navy from the position it had in 1913, into under the "wrong" policies of government of Roosevelt, President Taft

CABINET WILL MEET TO CONSIDER HUERTA BID FOR GLAD HAND

WASHINGTON, May 15.—A cabinet meeting will be called to decide whether the United States shall reply to the communication received from the Mexican rebels, saying that the new regime is "desirous of procuring cordial relations with this country," it was learned today. This message, signed by Provisional President De la Huerta, was regarded as an open bid for recognition. Some officials thought it was premature. A reply from this country to Huerta as Provisional President, would constitute a virtual recognition of the government in Mexico, according to opinion here, yet if no reply is sent, the State Department will be put in a position of ignoring a friendly communication from a regime which might become the permanent Mexican government. President Wilson's advice as to what Secretary Coby should do, has already been sought, it is understood.

REBELS INSIST THEY WILL CATCH CARRANZA BEFORE MANY HOURS

VERA CRUZ, Mexico, May 14. (Night).—Revolutionary leaders here tonight still claimed that the capture of President Carranza, hemmed in by rebel troops south of Apizaco, was only a matter of hours. Carranza's officers have advised their President to attempt to cut his way out to the north and reach the United States, according to revolutionary advisers, they said there had been no change in their plans to grant Carranza safe conduct to Vera Cruz and allow him to embark for a foreign country.

STOCK CLOSINGS

NEW YORK, May 15.—Motors featured trading an hour before the close. General Motors was up 1/2 at 28 1/2. Republic Steel gained 1/2 at 24 1/2. Bethlehem B up 1 at 92 1/2. Reading at 88 1/2 up 1/2. Baldwin at 117 1/2 up 1/2.

Failure to do his duty and as a result Wilson influenced the whole situation. "Between May 1, 1913 and September 1, 1918, the three years and a half in which the country was so engaged in war, the navy increased in personnel, efficiency and equipment more than at any similar period in our history," Daniels asserted.

EVERY CITIZEN SHOULD LEND A HAND AT CLEAN UP OF BOROUGH

Next week is "Clean Up Week" for Clearfield and every progressive, decent, self-respecting citizen should convert himself into a committee of one to see that the request of the Board of Health should be carried out and his own premises cleaned up and put in an orderly, sanitary condition. The long winter and backward spring has resulted in an especially large accumulation of winter's dirt and debris about the town proper and its removal will necessitate a correspondingly large effort on behalf of our citizens generally. Let us get busy next week and do it.

The Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce delegation will be here on Thursday and our streets and premises generally should be put in spick and span shape before the distinguished visitors have the opportunity of giving us the critical "once over." Clearfield is a pretty town when she is cleaned up; she is also naturally one of the healthiest communities in the land. We can keep her that way by each doing his full duty clean up week. Let us get busy, Mr. Citizen, and insist upon everybody else doing likewise and all will marvel at the good result.

"Cleanliness is akin to Godliness," who would be dirty?

MARRIAGE ANNULLED WHEN BROTHER FINDS HE MARRIED SISTER

MILWAUKEE, Wis., May 15.—The strange marriage of Edna Cooper to her own brother, Richard, to whom two children were born was revealed here today when Judge Halsey ordered an annulment of the marriage. Edna and her brother have been separated since infancy. They were both wards of the state. They became acquainted when Richard went to board with the family where Edna lived. They were married August 17, 1917 not knowing they were related.

Discovery of their relationship was made when an investigation of their marriage was made because Edna was under the state's care as a minor. Richard was sentenced to serve seven years in the state prison under a state law. Edna was released on probation. Edna later attempted to obtain the release of her brother husband by filing an affidavit claiming she was the only child of an aged couple. She was sentenced to the county jail for breaking her probation. The children are at a home for dependent children. They are well and normal, the authorities say.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Postlewaite, and Mrs. Fred Stie, and little daughter Janet, of Altoona are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Orrin C. Barger, at their home on Reed street.

"GYPSY ROVER" A WONDERFUL PERFORMANCE

Classiest Play Ever Given In Local Schools Put Over By High School Glee Club

WILL REPEAT SHOW TONIGHT

"The Gypsy Rover," presented by the Clearfield High School Glee Club at the High school auditorium last evening was easily "the class" of the High school plays presented in recent years.

"The Gypsy Rover" is a tuneful little operetta whose every part was exceptionally well taken by the admirable cast to which the parts were assigned. The action of the play gave every one ample opportunity to demonstrate his or her particular and peculiar talents and resulted in an evening of real enjoyment for the large audience present, which was literally carried away with the excellence of the performance.

The different choruses, with their pretty, graceful girls and handsome young men supplied the snap and swing to round out a perfectly balanced aggregation from opening to close.

The stage settings, electric effects and all other accessories were thoroughly in keeping with the general excellence of the entertainment and left nothing to be desired.

"The Gypsy Rover" was given under the highly capable direction of Cornelia Parkhill Reeve, who is fully deserving of the very generous compliments bestowed upon her by the entire audience.

The following participated in the play:

Cast of Characters
Meg, (Rob's foster mother) an old gypsy woman Ruth Margaret Shaw
Zara, The belle of the gypsy camp
Elizabeth Wilson
Marto, Meg's husband Allan Rockwell
Sinto, Gypsy lad in love with Zara
Rex Ammerman
Rob (Afterwards Sir Gilbert Howe)

F. P. Wentzel, orchestra director.
Alice Burkett Smith, piano
Stage Managers—Mary Shade, Amelia Butler, assisted by Miss Gilliland and Miss Conway
Electrician—G. Thorne
Scenery Committee—Clifford Shaw, Allan Rockwell, Fred Stewart, Ben Bigler, Kenneth Halford, Eiden Reed, Wynn Quigley.

On account of the great demand for seats it was found necessary to repeat "The Gypsy Rover" again this

MASTER THIEF OF LIBERTY BONDS SURRENDERS

Nicky Arnstein Motors Through Police Cordon Unidentified And Gives Himself Up

WAS HIDING IN PITTSBURGH

NEW YORK, May 15.—A five months' search for "Nicky" Arnstein, alleged master mind in wholesale bond thefts from Wall street brokers ended when he walked into the District Attorney's office here today. Arnstein arrived from Pittsburgh where he has been in hiding.

At 9 a. m. a motor rolled up to 90th Street where he met his actress wife, Fannie Brice. Accompanied by Wm. Fallon, attorney, the party motored down Fifth Avenue and passed through a long line of policemen gathered for their annual parade. As the automobile passed through Union Square Arnstein tipped his hat to high police officials gathered in the grand stand to witness the parade. The automobile was driven around the court house twice without Arnstein's being recognized. The first official to recognize him was Wm. Grenna, clerk of court.

The news spread rapidly and a large crowd gathered while Arnstein and his wife posed for photographers. Arnstein refused to talk regarding his experiences. "I will tell about them tomorrow," he said. Asked if he had been hiding in Cleveland, he said "I was there only once, on February 22." John Dolling, assistant district attorney in charge of the investigation of the bond theft was absent from his office when Arnstein arrived. A hurried call was sent for him while Arnstein sat outside the office and waited patiently.

NEW BRIDGES NOT LIKELY THIS YEAR

We are not of the killjoy class and we don't like to come anyways near having to be styled as such, but we do feel like telling our down river friends that they are very likely to have some wait for the rebuilding of the Deer Creek and Rollingstone bridges.

The delay which appears to be in sight is no fault of any person in official authority having to do there with, as thus far the matter has been hustled along just as rapidly as possible. The reports of the viewers will be presented and acted upon by the Dauphin county court on Monday next.

This action will place the matter of the construction of these bridges in the hands of the State Board of Public Buildings and Grounds. This Board will then in due course of time advertise for bids for the erection of the two bridges and then when contracts for same are let it will be up to the contractors to get their material. Right there is where the rub is going to come. Every steel mill in the country is months behind in its orders and when the material for these bridges can be secured will be the problem.

In ordinary times the different mills had bridge and structural steel on hands in their storage sheds but today every order such as these has to be fabricated and means in itself a delay of many months even after contracts are given.

Everything will be done by the local county officials to hurry both projects along to early completion but from the way it looks now there will be no bridges at either Deer Creek or Rollingstone in this year of our Lord.

It is too bad and a great hardship to the entire lower end of the county, but is simply one of those conditions which cannot be remedied at this end of the line.

Gordon Hutchinson and Gray Aughenbaugh, of O'Shanter, spent last evening in Clearfield.

evening in order that all who desire to witness it may have opportunity to do so. You had better go early if you do not see it.

KEATING SAFE CRACKER IS ARRESTED

Railroad Detectives Make Important Capture of Suspect Wanted For Many Crimes

FOLLOWED HIM TO CLEARFIELD

Capture of one of the principals in the Keating safe blowing which occurred early this week closed the second chapter of a most interesting story in crime circles. The chase for the safe blowers led the officers over the wildest country along the Susquehanna during the night as well as the day.

Last Monday night, May 10th, or early Tuesday morning, the safe in the Pennsy ticket office at Keating was blown open by the use of nitroglycerine. A considerable amount of cash was taken. Agent Ewan reported the robbery to the Division Superintendent and the railroad police department was notified. Lieutenant of Police A. O. Caldwell who was at Warren, was directed to the scene of the robbery and upon his arrival he made a cursory examination of conditions after which he was joined by Lieut. A. W. Eckess of the New York Central. Together they continued the investigation and from information obtained it appeared to the officers that the parties blowing the safe had traveled in the direction of Clearfield. Captain H. W. Rose of the Pennsy police of Erie, was notified and left on the first train for the scene of the crime. At Ridgway he received a report from the subordinate officers as to the possible whereabouts of the criminals and a conference was arranged for Clearfield the following morning.

While returning from Keating to Clearfield witnesses were discovered who gave good descriptions of the men who were thought to be the safe crackers and it was further found that the yeggs had boarded a freight at Cataarct, riding to a point east of the Shawville tunnel, where they left the train, one of the men leaving the train and walking back to Surveyor where some food was purchased in a store after which he joined his companions in crime and cooked a meal in a woods near Shawville.

The three officers took up the trail now about three hours old, and covered the mountain side at Shawville between that town and the point where the breakfast was cooked but were unable to locate their men. The search continued until a late hour Wednesday night and the trail was again taken at day break in the morning. During the night the bad men came down off the mountain and cooked a meal in the shed used for waiting passengers at Shawville. This was the last heard of them and it appeared impossible to pick up the trail again. However, by a streak of good luck and the stick-to-it-iveness of the officers it was decided to look over the territory in the region of the Clearfield Junction. Officers Rose and Caldwell started out the N. Y. C. tracks with this in view and upon coming to the state highway at the creek bridge paused for consultation. The officers knowing that a hobo camp was located on the site of the old powder mill concealed themselves and were soon rewarded by seeing a trail of smoke coming from the hobo camp. Immediately the chase became hot. By a detour the officers swooped down on the camp and covered the lone habitant with a pistol. The arrested man had just shaved, washed and cooked a meal preparatory probably to joining society once more as he was neatly dressed in the latest style clothes with nice tie, stick pin, spring coat, light fedora hat and all the trimmings of a gentleman. Capt. Rose immediately recognized the quarry as Alexander Rodzswill who in addition to being charged with the Keating robbery was wanted for the blowing of a safe in the Midland Wool Combining office at Salamanca, N. Y., on June 7, 1919, when he and his three accomplices secured $4260 in plunder. Rodzswill admitted his identity and is now lodged in the Clearfield jail awaiting the arrival of Post Office inspectors who want to take charge of him. When arrested he had a considerable amount of money, much of which was

UNION CHURCH SERLICES ALL NEXT WEEK

Residence Prayer Meetings of This Week To Be Followed By Worship In Churches

MEETINGS ARE ANNOUNCED

The churches and christian congregations of Clearfield propose to make next week the banner week of the union religious movement now sweeping the country from Maine to California with the purpose in view of re-awakening the American people to the grave necessity of replacing materialism with religious fervor and enthusiasm.

Since 1917 every energy of the American people was given over to the winning of the war and war pursuits and activities. Consequently materialism gained the ascendancy throughout the world and now that Caesar has been rendered in full measure the things that are Caesar's it is up to Christian people generally, before any real readjustment may be accomplished, to pause in their mad chase after material ends and think of the duty they owe to God and the things that are His due now and for all time.

With the object in view of stirring our little community to a realization of what is expected of it, union services for all the churches of the town have been arranged for all of next week, and every Christian regardless of denomination is asked to participate in all of these services.

Following is the order of exercises: Monday evening—At the Baptist church.

Tuesday evening—at the West Side Methodist church.

Wednesday evening—At the Trinity Methodist church.

Thursday evening—At the Lutheran church.

Friday evening—At the Presbyterian church.

The different pastors of the churches will preside at these services and everybody is urged to come. They will start promptly at 7:30 each evening and will last one hour. Surely you can give one hour each evening next week to God's holy service. Bring your red books.

ROLLINGSTONE BRIDGE VIEW MADE

The Rollingstone bridge view was held Wednesday afternoon last, the viewers making their headquarters at Kylertown while making up their report.

The viewers were: Robert Stricker, Job B. Conklin and Eugene Cohen, of Harrisburg, while Engineer E. E. Brandow, of Harrisburg, represents the State Highway Department.

Clearfield county was represented by County Commissioners Dale, Farrell and Weimer, County Solicitor Woodward and W. Wallace Smith, Esq., Engineer, and E. W. Hess.

The party took dinner with Kate Saneroff, at Kylertown, and from their description of the layout given them that dinner is one of the real good things The Progress scribe has missed in the last few years. Miss Saneroff is a noted cook and her excellent dinner will long be remembered by those enjoying it.

Mrs. D. W. Speck has returned from visiting with relatives in New York, Philadelphia and Harrisburg.

in the denominations of change as would be kept in railroad stations. He protested that he had earned the money but his hilly white hands did not indicate that he was a toiler.

The officers made a complete search of the hobo camp at the creek and found a great many articles which had been concealed by hobos in the clefts of rocks and under logs. They found a large blue steel pistol which Rodzswill is believed to have hid just before the officers pounced upon him. They also found enough cooking utensils to set up a modern family. It appears that all the hobos visiting the camp know just where to find the pan and other utensils to fricassee their chicken and make their mayon-aise dressing.

Rodzswill had an accomplice and he is expected to be captured very soon.

"You come in with her, you'd never have got a table in this place."

"What is the matter with her? Who is Lefty Moore?"

An expression of amazement came into the man's face.

"Did you never hear tell of Lefty Moore, the cleverest three-time burglar there is in or out of Sing Sing? Fourteen years he got the last time, and it was quite a write-up the papers gave me for catching him."

It began to dawn on me then who the man was. He must be an ex-policeman employed as the restaurant lounge or house detective.

"You're sure Miss Kelly and Lefty Moore's wife are the same person?"

"Five reasons for not forgetting her. She was with him that time when I took him. I've got the marks of her nails in my face yet. It's her all right, even if she has gone to work as Miss Kelly while Lefty's doing his stretch. She's a bad one, she is."

"Is she a crook, too?" I asked excitedly. I was trying to measure up the importance of this astounding bit of information. Already my deductions had convinced me that some kind of criminals was in collusion with someone in the apartment who was carrying out their plots against the Bradfords and me. I had been thinking of an apartment surreptitiously tenanted by a criminal gang. How much more likely that an employee of the place was in the pay of the plotters! And now to learn that the telephone girl was, if not a criminal herself, at least the associate of criminals.

"She's got no record that I know of," the detective admitted, "but she couldn't be Lefty Moore's wife without being a crook herself."

"That helps explain things," I said more to myself than to him.

"The pearls!" she gasped, turning white. "You're going to send him the Gaston pearls?"

There was a note of amazement, of incredulity in her tone.

"Excuse me," she said, rising unexpectedly. "I gotta telephone."

Before I could gather my wits together she had vanished, leaving me sitting there, staring after her in dismay. What did she—the telephone girl—know about the Gaston pearls? How could she possibly know that they were missing? I had told no one—not one except Barbara Bradford—about the riddled wall safe. How could her excitement and perturbation be accounted for except by the fact that she knew of their loss? I was sitting there, puzzling over her mysterious conduct, when I became aware that a man was standing beside my table, glaring down at me. I looked up, expecting to see the waiter, or head waiter. Instead it was a man in a dinner jacket, a stocky, broad-shouldered chap with a close-cropped gray mustache.

"You've got your nerve," he sneered at me.

"Bringing a woman of that sort here."

"A woman of what sort?" I asked eagerly, surprised to find someone in a place of this sort who knew the Bradfords' telephone girl.

"Why, Lefty Moore's wife, of course."

"I don't understand," I replied. "I'm here with Miss Kelly."

"Oh, she told you that was her name, did she?"

"I know it's her name. She's the telephone girl in the apartment where I live—the Grandlock."

"I could see his manner toward me change at the mention of my abode, but he was still insistent about the identity of my companion."

"How well do you know her?" he asked.

"Well—I am afraid I colored as I realized that my acquaintance with the girl was limited—I've been living there for a week or so and I've talked with her two or three times and—"

"I thought so," said my neighbor. "There's nothing to it. She's Lefty Moore's woman all right. If I'd seen her I'd have known it."

"You've Got Your Nerve," He Sneered at Me.

"I'll be there," I said, as I bade him good night.

"Hold on a minute," he said. "Do you know where Lefty Moore's wife lives now?"

I recalled the number she had told me to give the taxi man and repeated it to him, an address way over on East Sixty-second street near the river.

"I like to know them sort of things," he explained. "In our business you never know when you'll be needing them."

On my way home, after I left him, I congratulated myself on having made James Gorman's acquaintance. In him I had found a man with police and detective experience. The fact that he held a responsible position with a big hotel ought to be sufficient voucher for his honesty. Of course Miss Bradford must be consulted before I met Gorman the next afternoon. I could hardly tell him my own almost unbelievable experiences without bringing in the attempts to blackmail her sister. Surely Miss Bradford would not object to my plan. We were making such poor headway in solving the mystery ourselves that I was certain she would welcome Gorman's advice.

And would it not be a surprise to Barbara Bradford to learn that a criminal—or at least the wife of a criminal—was employed as a telephone girl in the apartment house? I was

Cling to Savage Customs.
Throughout the islands of the New Hebrides many of the primitive customs are still pronounced. The "Shag" ground is still kept in readiness for the periodical outbursts of feeling, when the islanders dance his wild and sacred dances to the ghastly music of the drums. Watching one of these sacred revels followed by an orgy of eating, or more correctly stuffing, it seems to the observer that the New Hebrides race is destined to continue until it dies out a savage or, at best, semi-civilized people.

Snowstorms Form in Warm Climates.
Potentially snow storms form in general region of warmth, strange as it may seem. The area of low barometric pressure, or storm sea, comes whirling eastward across the Gulf states and then generally takes a twist northward along the Atlantic seaboard. When sufficiently far north these warm air currents are chilled and the moisture becomes snow, very often being borne to the earth by the back draft of east wind.

Not Slamming the Departed.
At a woman's meeting, a young person asked a member of the congregation if her husband was well. He replied the astounding reply: "Oh, he's been dead those last twenty years, since the Lord!"

IF BACKACHY OR KIDNEYS BOTHER
Eat less meat and take a glass of Salts to flush out kidney—
Drink plenty water

Use acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish ache and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush out the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

Eat less meat drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of oranges and lemon juice combined with lithia and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say that Jad Salts is the best for folks who believe in overcoming their trouble while it is only trouble.

COULD NOT BEGIN TO TELL ALL
"I could not tell you all the benefits I had from the use of Foley's Honey and Tar," writes Miss Rose Morke, 209 Hawkins Ave., N. Braddock, Pa. "I had a cold in my chest and fearing pneumonia I tried Foley's Honey and Tar and it was not long till I felt relieved. I hope others suffering from severe colds will try it." Many such letters have been written about this true-tried, reliable family medicine for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough.

NEPONSET

For Buildings of All Kinds

For sloping roofs on residences, bungalows, or public buildings, Neponset Twin Shingles make as handsome a roof as it is possible to find anywhere and they are most economical.

Neponset Twin Shingles are impervious with asphalt and heavily surfaced with green slate. No wonder they resist fire and weather. Their natural slate-red and slate-green colors are restful and beautiful.

They will not catch fire from falling sparks. Because they are two shingles in one and self-spacing, they require less labor and less nail to lay.

Rosemary, aged four, and her twin sisters, aged two, were left in the care of a friend who also had three children of about the same ages. During the afternoon the friend heard one of the children in her pantry and thinking to frighten the child out of the pantry without going in, said: "I hear some one in my pantry." Rosemary quickly walked over to her and said: "It's not any of ours; it's one of your own."

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS CURWENSVILLE

The Evangelist, A. N. Salvie, will preach in the United Christian church Sunday, May 16, at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

Richard Lantz left yesterday afternoon for Pittsburgh, where he will spend the next few days transacting business relative to his automobile trade.

Samuel Smith, who resides over at the big finishing tannery, and who has been ill for many months with asthma and bronchial trouble, went to Clearfield Hospital yesterday for medical treatment. His many friends who work at the tannery hope for his speedy recovery.

The funeral of Miss Sarah Sweney was held from her late home yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Although the weather was extremely cold and blustery for this time of the year, a large number of friends assembled to pay the last tribute to one whom they loved in life and now mourn in death. The floral tribute, although not extravagant, was plentiful and tastefully arranged. An hour or so before the services were held many of her former school mates called for the last look at their associate and friend.

Squire James Caldwell came over from Tyrone yesterday, to attend the funeral of Sarah L. Sweney. The Squire is a great lover of children, and she was one of his favorites.

Hide shortage is narrowing work down at the Pennsylvania Hide and Leather company's plant, to a pretty small margin, compared to what was going on over there a year ago. There has been no "hanging in" of raw skins for over a month, which means that the yard is being slowly depleted of tanned leather, which is ready for the splitting machine and the finishing department.

At a meeting of citizens held in the Firemen's hall Thursday evening, a preliminary organization was made of a company to be known as the Curwensville Realty company, the aim and object of which is the erection of a number of tenement houses. The temporary officers chosen for the time being are: A. G. Woodward, president; Richard Lantz, secretary; Al McNaul, treasurer. A board of directors were also appointed. An effort will be made immediately to have the sum of $15,000 worth of bonds subscribed and pledged, and when this is accomplished, the organization will at once become a permanent one, and start right in to do business in the building line.

Mrs. Blaine Cleaver and children have gone to Williamsport, Md., for a visit with Mrs. Cleaver's mother, Mrs. Bert Miller.

Katherine Kephart, a daughter of Warren Kephart, South Side, was operated upon for appendicitis at the Clearfield Hospital last week. The operation was a successful one and the young lady is recovering from its effect splendidly.

The members of the Senior class of the P. G. High School, went down to the home of Carl Schrote, near River-view bridge, Thursday evening, and were royally entertained by that young man and his family. Young Schrote is a class member.

Sam P. Bressler has purchased an interest in the C. A. Rorabaugh insurance agency, and the business will hereafter be conducted under the name and title of "The C. A. Rorabaugh Agency."

Messrs. Charles McKenrick and John Kellar, hailing from Akron, Ohio, visited with relatives in town on Thursday.

Mrs. A. L. Carpenter, of Pittsburgh, is visiting with relatives at the Park House.

"Is The World Getting Better?" will be the subject of a sermon by Rev. J. C. Collins, pastor of the Methodist church, on Sunday morning. Some answer yes, and others answer no. What is your opinion on the subject? The pastor wants everybody to come and bring their opinions with them. A frank presentation of this important subject ought to be of profit to all. If the world is growing worse, who is to blame? If it is getting better, who is to receive credit?

Thomas Reay, a candidate for the assembly, on the Republican ticket, who hails from DuBois, was circulating among the Republican voters of Curwensville yesterday afternoon.

A little snow, a little hail and a little sunshine, was a variety of weather that visited Curwensville yesterday. Straw hats were thrown aside toward evening and the old reliable overcoat donned once more.

The members of J. Earl Sipes Post, No. 505, American Legion, has secured permanent quarters in a brick building located on corner of Meadow and Hubert streets.

"THE WISHING RING"

Tuneful musical numbers, brilliant dialogue, beautiful dancing and spectacular features, will make "The Wishing Ring," the bewitching musical extravaganza, one of the biggest hits of the season. With a cast of over one hundred dancers and singers, the opera will be staged at the Curwensville Opera House on May 17 and 19, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Presbyterian church. When the curtain rises on the beautiful, spectacular operetta, the probabilities are that the best audience that has ever assembled at the Opera House will be there to enjoy it. Advance sale has been fine and indicates capacity houses at all performances. M15-11-ch (Advt.)

Origin of the Jazz Band.

The jazz band idea, according to a French paper, originated in the time of the Directory. At the concerts of the Cat orchestra were twenty cats, heads in a row on the keyboard of a harpsichord. The performer by striking the keys pulled the cats' tails, causing a caterwauling which sounded like a jazz band.

MARY MILES MINTER

In

"Judy of Rogue's Harbor"

From the Famous Novel by Grace Miller White. Folks, you will like "Judy of Rogue's Harbor." You will laugh and cry over it. It's a big kindly story about every-day people who live in the sweet clean wholesome country atmosphere that you and everybody knows and loves. There are times when one's heart even wells up into his throat and the sobs come in spite of all the trying in the world to stop them. And the fact that Mary Miles Minter, queen of youth, portrays the role of the fascinating, tantalizing heroine, makes the picture doubly attractive.

WILSON—No need to explain who Wilson is. He's more notorious than leap year—and fully as dangerous. He's craftier than a twice-widow stalking her third victim; and stouter of heart than the man who marries her. You'll regret letting him make a get-away without seeing him! See the three of them in

CLEAN--UP WEEK

After a long, hard winter such as we have just passed through it is only to be expected that our Borough will emerge from its coat of snow in a filthy condition.

This year the Borough is in an unusually filthy condition; this applies not only to the individual properties but streets and alleys as well.

On or about May 28th our town will be visited by the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce and the Board of Health feels that it would be very opportune if we can make a general clean up before this great delegation of business and professional men visit us.

Let us then designate the week of

MAY 27th TO 22nd

AS CLEAN UP WEEK and may we not have your co-operation in the matter? Let every citizen during that time clean up all cellars, yards, barns, out houses, etc., transport any and all rubbish to the Garbage dump which council has provided for us on Guinea Hill where it will be taken care of by the man in charge, between the hours of 8 a. m. and 5 p. m. so that we may have an attractive as well as a healthful place in which to live. This is YOUR town.

Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne, the famous motion picture stars, have returned to the spoken drama as Oliver Morosco stars. They will appear at the Driggs Theatre Thursday, May 20, in "The Master Thief," a powerful mystery play by Edward E. Rose, under Mr. Morosco's engagement. It is nearly nine years since Mr. Bushman appeared in a speaking role, and it is certain that there will be great local interest in his appearance. Before he went into pictures he had a wide experience in stock and touring companies.

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG

Don't stay gray! Nobody can tell when you darken gray faded hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients all ready to use, at very little cost. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful. This preparation is delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

Why Breathe Through the Nose?

Reasons for breathing through the nose instead of the mouth are: (1) to warm the air; (2) to moisten the air; (3) to remove the dust and germs; (4) to produce more suction in the chest, which helps draw blood into the lungs as well as air, thus helping the heart and more easily attaining second wind.

Banish Worry and Anxiety.
Many of those who have failed in life could have accomplished great things if they could only have kept themselves in harmony, if they could only have cut out of their lives the friction. The worry and the anxiety frittered away their energy and wasted their life forces.—Orison Swett Marden, in Chicago Daily News.

MRS. A. M. WRIGHT'S BROTHER DIES

David Roy Caldwell, notice of whose death appeared yesterday, was born in Tyrone in 1873 and was a son of David T. and Lucy A. F. Caldwell. All his life was spent in Tyrone. In his early manhood he was a clerk in the Templeton company stores and for several years has been operating a shoe store, corner of Logan avenue and Tenth street. He was united in marriage August 3, 1914, with Miss Dayse Stitt of Altoona, who survives with four children, Florence, Margaret, Rebecca and Kathryn. He is also survived by his parents, one brother and five sisters: William C. of Monango, N. D.; Mrs. Annie Lewis Wright, Clearfield; Mrs. Mary C. Kloss, of Cleveland, O.; Mrs. Margaret Burnham and Mrs. Nina C. Miller, of Tyrone, and Mrs. Helen Ray Black of Hartford, Conn.

He is the first of the family to pass away, the parents, all other children and grandchildren are living. He was a member of the Presbyterian church and was a highly respected business man and citizen. Funeral services conducted by Rev. C. R. Scafe, of the Presbyterian church, were held at the home, 610 South Washington avenue, Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Interment in East Lawn cemetery.

WAS BADLY RUN-DOWN FROM PNEUMONIA

Mrs. Wachburn quickly regained her strength and flesh.

"I had gripe, followed by pneumonia. It left me with a terrible soreness in my chest, constant pain in my throat and so weak and nervous I could neither eat nor sleep. I had a chill every morning."

"One day a young man told me how Milks Emulsion had got him out of bed and built him up after he had been reduced to a skeleton and given up by the doctors. So I tried it. I have gained in strength, appetite and flesh, sleep better than I have for years, am doing all my own work again and feel like a new person."

"The beauty about Milks Emulsion is that it doesn't wear out like most things, and is so pleasant to take. It is a food as well as a medicine and builds up the blood and tissue. It surely put new blood in my veins and I have the healthiest color I ever had."—Mrs. M. Wachburn, El Centro, Cal.

It costs nothing to try Milks Emulsion. It will build you up more quickly, more surely than anything else.

Milks Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, promotes appetite and puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are usually relieved in one day.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milks Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 60c and $1.20 per bottle. The Milks Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold by druggists everywhere. Guaranteed by Stewart's Drug Store.

PENNSYLVANIA DELEGATES WORRY POLITICAL BOSSES

SPROUL EXPECTED TO GET THEIR VOTE ON FIRST BALLOT, BUT NO TELLING WHO WILL BE CHOICE AFTER THAT

VERMONT ALSO ELECTS TUESDAY

NEW YORK, May 15.—Pennsylvania with the second largest delegation to the big engine among the states still to elect their representatives to the Chicago convention. Politicians are employing every means to determine how this state's 74 delegates will be distributed after the election Tuesday; whether they will be for Governor Sproul, Senator Knox or Major Wood or distributed among the three.

There is a general belief that Sproul will get practically a unanimous vote from his own state on the first ballot but it is what Pennsylvania will do on the second and subsequent ballots that is bothering the politicians.

Unlike the elections in most states where he has had state support, Wood will be opposed by the Republican organization and Knox will have the support of Senator Penrose, state leader.

Although the Wood people are claiming an allegiance with Sproul, political observers are inclined to believe Governor will be put in a position of having to turn over all of the personal strength he may possess to Knox, a favorite son. Knox, of course, is Penrose's personal candidate. The only candidate entered in the Republican presidential primary in Pennsylvania is Edward Randolph Wood, of Philadelphia, no relative of the general. The practical politicians do not figure him in the running. Vermont also will select 8 delegates in the primaries Tuesday.

EVERY CITIZEN SHOULD LEND A HAND AT CLEAN UP OF BOROUGH

Next week is "Clean Up Week" for Clearfield and every progressive, decent, self-respecting citizen should convert himself into a committee of one to see that the request of the Board of Health should be carried out and his own premises cleaned up and put in an orderly, sanitary condition.

The long winter and backward spring has resulted in an especially large accumulation of winter's dirt and debris about the town proper and its removal will necessitate a correspondingly large effort on behalf of our citizens generally. Let us get busy next week and do it.

The Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce delegation will be here on Thursday and our streets and premises generally should be put in spick and span shape before the distinguished visitors have the opportunity of giving us the critical "once over."

Clearfield is a pretty town when she is cleaned up; she is also naturally one of the healthiest communities in the land. We can keep her that way by each doing his full duty clean up week. Let us get busy, Mr. Citizen, and insist upon everybody else doing likewise and all will marvel at the good result.

"GYPSY ROVER" A WONDERFUL PERFORMANCE

Classiest Play Ever Given In Local Schools Put Over By High School Glee Club

WILL REPEAT SHOW TONIGHT

"The Gypsy Rover," presented by the Clearfield High School Glee Club at the High school auditorium last evening was easily "the class" of the High school plays presented in recent years.

"The Gypsy Rover" is a tuneful little operetta whose every part was exceptionally well taken by the admirable cast to which the parts were assigned. The action of the play gave every one ample opportunity to demonstrate his or her particular and peculiar talents and resulted in an evening of real enjoyment for the large audience present, which was literally carried away with the excellence of the performance.

The different choruses, with their pretty, graceful girls and handsome young men supplied the snap and swing to round out a perfectly balanced aggregation from opening to close.

The stage settings, electric effects and all other accessories were thoroughly in keeping with the general excellence of the entertainment and left nothing to be desired.

"The Gypsy Rover" was given under the highly capable direction of Cornelia Parkhill Reeve, who is fully deserving of the very generous compliments bestowed upon her by the entire audience.

The following participated in the play:

Cast of Characters
Meg, (Rob's foster mother) an old gypsy woman Ruth Margaret Shaw
Zara, The belle of the gypsy camp Elizabeth Wilson
Marto, Meg's husband Allan Rockwell
Sinto, Gypsy lad in love with Zara Rex Ammerman

MASTER THIEF OF LIBERTY BONDS SURRENDERS

Nicky Arnstein Motors Through
Police Cordon Unidentified
And Gives Himself Up

WAS HIDING IN PITTSBURGH

NEW YORK, May 15.—A five months' search for "Nicky" Arnstein, alleged master mind in wholesale bond thefts from Wall street brokers ended when he walked into the District Attorney's office here today. Arnstein arrived from Pittsburgh where he has been in hiding.

At 9 a. m. a motor rolled up to 90th Street where he met his actress wife, Fannie Brice. Accompanied by Wm. Fallon, attorney, the party motored down Fifth Avenue and passed through a long line of policemen gathered for their annual parade. As the automobile passed through Union Square Arnstein tipped his hat to high police officials gathered in the grand stand to witness the parade. The automobile was driven around the court house twice without Arnstein's being recognized. The first official to recognize him was Wm. Grenna, clerk of court.

The news spread rapidly and a large crowd gathered while Arnstein and his wife posed for photographers. Arnstein refused to talk regarding his experiences. "I will tell about them tomorrow," he said. Asked if he had been hiding in Cleveland, he said "I was there only once, on February 22." John Dolling, assistant district attorney in charge of the investigation of the bond theft was absent from his office when Arnstein arrived. A hurried call was sent for him while Arnstein sat outside the office and waited patiently.

NEW BRIDGES NOT LIKELY THIS YEAR

We are not of the killjoy class and we don't like to come anyways near having to be styled as such, but we do feel like telling our down river friends that they are very likely to have some wait for the rebuilding of the Deer Creek and Rollingstone bridges.

The delay which appears to be in sight is no fault of any person in official authority having to do there with, as thus far the matter has been hustled along just as rapidly as possible. The reports of the viewers will be presented and acted upon by the Dauphin county court on Monday next.

This action will place the matter of the construction of these bridges in the hands of the State Board of Public Buildings and Grounds. This Board will then in due course of time advertise for bids for the erection of the two bridges and then when contracts for same are let it will be up to the contractors to get their material. Right there is where the rub is going to come. Every steel mill in the country is months behind in its orders and when the material for these bridges can be secured will be the problem.

In ordinary times the different mills had bridge and structural steel on hand in their storage sheds but today every order such as these has to be fabricated and means in itself a delay of many months even after contracts are given.

Everything will be done by the local county officials to hurry both projects along to early completion but from the way it looks now there will be no bridges at either Deer Creek or Rollingstone in this year of our Lord.

It is too bad and a great hardship to the entire lower end of the county, but is simply one of those conditions which cannot be remedied at this end of the line.

Gordon Hutchinson and Gray Aughenbaugh, of O'Shanter, spent last evening in Clearfield.

evening in order that all who desire to witness it may have opportunity to do so. You had better go early if you do not see it.

KEATING SAFE CRACKER IS ARRESTED

Railroad Detectives Make Important Capture of Suspect
Wanted For Many Crimes

FOLLOWED HIM TO CLEARFIELD

Capture of one of the principals in the Keating safe blowing which occurred early this week closed the second chapter of a most interesting story in crime circles. The chase for the safe blowers led the officers over the wildest country along the Susquehanna during the night as well as the day.

Last Monday night, May 10th, or early Tuesday morning, the safe in the Pennsy ticket office at Keating was blown open by the use of nitroglycerine. A considerable amount of cash was taken. Agent Ewan reported the robbery to the Division Superintendent and the railroad police department was notified. Lieutenant of Police A. O. Caldwell who was at Warren, was directed to the scene of the robbery and upon his arrival he made a cursory examination of conditions after which he was joined by Lieut. A. W. Eckess of the New York Central. Together they continued the investigation and from information obtained it appeared to the officers that the parties blowing the safe had traveled in the direction of Clearfield. Captain H. W. Rose of the Pennsy police of Erie, was notified and left on the first train for the scene of the crime. At Ridgway he received a report from the subordinate officers as to the possible whereabouts of the criminals and a conference was arranged for Clearfield the following morning.

While returning from Keating to Clearfield witnesses were discovered who gave good descriptions of the men who were thought to be the safe crackers and it was further found that the yeggs had boarded a freight at Catawact, riding to a point east of the Shawville tunnel, where they left the train, one of the men leaving the train and walking back to Surveyor where some food was purchased in a store after which he joined his companions in crime and cooked a meal in a woods near Shawville.

The three officers took up the trail now about three hours old, and covered the mountain side at Shawville between that town and the point where the breakfast was cooked but were unable to locate their men. The search continued until a late hour Wednesday night and the trail was again taken at day break in the morning. During the night the bad men came down off the mountain and cooked a meal in the shed used for waiting passengers at Shawville. This was the last heard of them and it appeared impossible to pick up the trail again. However, by a streak of good luck and the stick-to-it-iveness of the officers it was decided to look over the territory in the region of the Clearfield Junction. Officers Rose and Caldwell started out the N. Y. C. tracks with this in view and upon coming to the state highway at the creek bridge paused for consultation. The officers knowing that a hobo camp was located on the site of the old powder mill concealed themselves and were soon rewarded by seeing a trail of smoke coming from the hobo camp. Immediately the chase became hot. By a detour the officers swooped down on the camp and covered the lone habitant with a pistol. The arrested man had just shaved, washed and cooked a meal preparatory probably to joining society once more as he was neatly dressed in the latest style clothes with nice tie, stick pin, spring coat, light fedora hat and all the trimmings of a gentleman. Capt. Rose immediately recognized the quarry as Alexander Rodzswill who in addition to being charged with the Keating robbery was wanted for the blowing of a safe in the Midland Wool Combining office at Salamanca, N. Y., on June 7, 1919, when he and his three accomplices secured $4260 in plunder. Rodzswill admitted his identity and is now lodged in the Clearfield jail awaiting the arrival of Post Office inspectors who want to take charge of him. When arrested he had a considerable amount of money, much of which was

UNION CHURCH SERVICES ALL NEXT WEEK

Residence Prayer Meetings of
This Week To Be Followed
By Worship In Churches

MEETINGS ARE ANNOUNCED

The churches and christian congregations of Clearfield propose to make next week the banner week of the union religious movement now sweeping the country from Maine to California with the purpose in view of re-awakening the American people to the grave necessity of replacing materialism with religious fervor and enthusiasm.

Since 1917 every energy of the American people was given over to the winning of the war and war pursuits and activities. Consequently materialism gained the ascendancy throughout the world and now that Caesar has been rendered in full measure the things that are Caesar's it is up to Christian people generally, before any real readjustment may be accomplished, to pause in their mad chase after material ends and think of the duty they owe to God and the things that are His due now and for all time.

With the object in view of stirring our little community to a realization of what is expected of it, union services for all the churches of the town have been arranged for all of next week, and every Christian regardless of denomination is asked to participate in all of these services.

Following is the order of exercises: Monday evening—At the Baptist church.

Tuesday evening—at the West Side Methodist church.

Wednesday evening—At the Trinity Methodist church.

Thursday evening—At the Lutheran church.

Friday evening—At the Presbyterian church.

The different pastors of the churches will preside at these services and everybody is urged to come. They will start promptly at 7:30 each evening and will last one hour. Surely you can give one hour each evening next week to God's holy service. Bring your red books.

ROLLINGSTONE BRIDGE VIEW MADE

The Rollingstone bridge view was held Wednesday afternoon last, the viewers making their headquarters at Kylertown while making up their report.

The viewers were: Robert Stricker, Job B. Conklin and Eugene Cohen, of Harrisburg, while Engineer E. E. Brandow, of Harrisburg, represents the State Highway Department.

Clearfield county was represented by County Commissioners Dale, Farrell and Weimer, County Solicitor Woodward and W. Wallace Smith, Esq., Engineer, and E. W. Hess.

The party took dinner with Kate Saneroff, at Kylertown, and from their description of the layout given them that dinner is one of the real good things The Progress scribe has missed in the last few years. Miss Saneroff is a noted cook and her excellent dinner will long be remembered by those enjoying it.

Mrs. D. W. Speck has returned from visiting with relatives in New York, Philadelphia and Harrisburg.

in the denominations of change as would be kept in railroad stations. He protested that he had earned the money but his hilly white hands did not indicate that he was a toiler.

The officers made a complete search of the hobo camp at the creek and found a great many articles which had been concealed by hobos in the clefts of rocks and under logs. They found a large blue steel pistol which Rodzswill is believed to have hid just before the officers pounced upon him. They also found enough cooking utensils to set up a modern family. It appears that all the hobos visiting the camp know just where to find the pan and other utensils to fricassee their chicken and make their mayon-aise dressing.

Rodzswill had an accomplice and he is expected to be captured very soon.

BIBLE MAINTAINS LEAD AS WORLD'S "BEST SELLER"

Those who are familiar with certain facts smile to themselves when they read a list of the "Ten Best Sellers." This is because of the fact that this list seldom, if ever, contains the name of the real leader. The best seller, day in and day out, month after month, year after year, is the Book of Books—the Bible.

To supply the great demand and to enlarge its field of usefulness, the Bible is printed in over 600 different languages and dialects. At the present time it is estimated that the Bible printed in an understandable language, is now available to seven out of every ten people in the world. The Bible itself is a most liberal education in English, in diction, poetry, romance, history, tragedy—all are encompassed within its pages. But many people do not know how to read the Bible. We often thought that ministers might stimulate the reading of this Book by outlining a comprehensive plan in a sermon or series of sermons.

The Bible was the first printed book from movable type. In the 485 years following, the Bible Society alone has distributed over 250,000,000 copies. Other societies and private publishing houses before and since, have distributed many other millions. And the demand does not lessen. Happily, it increases as the population of the world increases. Even beyond its moral teachings students find it the most gripping story of all time.

The world's best seller has a lead that in all probabilities the centuries will not overcome.—DuBois' Courier.

DANIELS CHARGES TAFT AND ROOSEVELT WITH LETTING NAVY GO TOPOT

WASHINGTON, May 15.—Secretary Daniels today assailed the naval policy of former president Roosevelt and Taft, because they permitted the United States to lose its place as the world naval power in the world, and allow Germany to pass us. The great step in history in naval improvement was made under President Wilson, he declared. Continuing his denunciation before the Senate Naval investigating committee, Daniels asserted the Wilson administration on leaving the navy from the position it had in 1913, into under the "true progressive government of Roosevelt." President Taft

CABINET WILL MEET TO CONSIDER HUERTA BID FOR GLAD HAND

WASHINGTON, May 15.—A cabinet meeting will be called to decide whether the United States shall reply to the communication received from the Mexican rebels, saying that the new regime is "desirous of procuring cordial relations with this country," it was learned today. This message, signed by Provisional President De la Huerta, was regarded as an open bid for recognition. Some officials thought it was premature. A reply from this country to Huerta as Provisional President, would constitute a virtual recognition of the government in Mexico, according to opinion here, yet if no reply is sent, the State Department will be put in a position of ignoring a friendly communication from a regime which might become the permanent Mexican government. President Wilson's advice as to what Secretary Coby should do, has already been sought, it is understood.

REBELS INSIST THEY WILL CATCH CARRANZA BEFORE MANY HOURS

VERA CRUZ, Mexico, May 14. (Night).—Revolutionary leaders here tonight still claimed that the capture of President Carranza, hemmed in by rebel troops south of Apizaco, was only a matter of hours. Carranza's officers have advised their President to attempt to cut his way out to the north and reach the United States, according to revolutionary advisers, they said there had been no change in their plans to grant Carranza safe conduct to Vera Cruz and allow him to embark for a foreign country.

MARRIAGE ANNULLED WHEN BROTHER FINDS HE MARRIED SISTER

MILWAUKEE, Wis., May 15.—The strange marriage of Edna Cooper to her own brother, Richard, to whom two children were born was revealed here today when Judge Halsey ordered an annulment of the marriage. Edna and her brother have been separated since infancy. They were both wards of the state. They became acquainted when Richard went to board with the family where Edna lived. They were married August 17, 1917 not knowing they were related. Discovery of their relationship was made when an investigation of their marriage was made because Edna was under the state's care as a minor. Richard was sentenced to serve seven years in the state prison under a state law. Edna was released on probation. Edna later attempted to obtain the release of her brother husband by filing an affidavit claiming she was the only child of an aged couple. She was sentenced to the county jail for breaking her probation. The children are at a home for dependent children. They are well and normal, the authorities say.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Postlewaite, and Mrs. Fred Stie, and little daughter Janet, of Altoona are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Orrin C. Barger, at their home on Reed street.

A DISTORTED IDEA OF WHAT STRONG MEN ARE

The Battsman's Journal is a fine for the world to see. It is a vote for, for delegate to the national convention. No since they say in the following words:

"We cannot say who to vote for, as that would be having a prejudice, which we decline. But the same Journal is not so modest in telling the voters how to vote and incidentally telling the 'who' as well as the 'how'." Continuing The Journal says:

It is important that strong men be elected because we want the strongest statesman, the greatest man, the best disciplined citizen nominated, that he may be strong and elected. Those who are not familiar with the conducting of a National convention, may be influenced by the suggestions of some aspirants who are running on a platform of support this man because such declarations may win votes. Let me tell you that the majority of the Pennsylvania delegation are hand-picked, and it is well that they are for there is no place that leader has so badly needed as at a National convention, and these few pigmies who go strutting around declaring what they will do when they get to Chicago will do nothing at all but be swallowed up when they rub up against such leadership as Knox, Penrose and Sproul, and, unhappily, instructed, such thoroughbreds as the caucus of the full state delegation, they will be greatly bewildered when the first motion is put before the caucus will be, I move in all the proceedings of this convention that the state delegation shall vote as a unit and that our senior Senator, Ross, Penrose, be elected chairman of the delegation and cast the vote of the delegation when the vote is called in the roll call of the convention. The sixth man fellow who wants to be felt must then show their hand by withdrawing from the caucus or at least by it, and because of it, and they come back without a rough knowledge of the workings of a National convention, and enable them to apologize for what they didn't do. And for the broader and stronger men directing them to do their duty under the strong leadership that will surround them.

May a poor insignificant Republican ask The Journal why we should elect a tramp man to go to Chicago to be a mere pawn in the hand of the national leader. I don't think the weaker of the week could better tell the hell possible by the Journal.

We ask The Journal if it is more and honest in its portrayal of a "packed" convention. It put in giving us a picture of it, it is a change to find a more honest picture.

SUSQUEHANNA COLLEGE OF MUSIC RECIPIENT

The pianoforte recital at the Susquehanna College of Music Thursday evening, attracted a capacity crowd of the music lovers of Clearfield and a real musical treat was given.

The general excellence of the program was in thorough keeping with the high character of previous Susquehanna College recitals.

Miss Anna Martha Wray was the soloist, taking part in the program and her performance elicited whirlwinds of applause and most extensive applause. Miss Wray has surmounted great physical handicaps, but thanks to her inherent talent combined with the capable instruction of Susquehanna, has developed into a fine pianist.

Constipation

THERE IS NOTHING equal to Chamberlain's Tablets for constipation. When the proper dose is taken their action is so agreeable and so natural that you do not realize that it is the effect of a medicine. These tablets possess tonic properties that aid in establishing a natural and regular action of the bowels. Chamberlain's Tablets have cured many cases of chronic constipation.

The House of Whispers

By William Johnston

"You come in with her, you'd never have got a table in this place."

"What is the matter with her? Who is Lefty Moore?"

An expression of amazement came into the man's face.

"Did you never hear tell of Lefty Moore, the cleverest three-time burglar there is in or out of Sing Sing? Fourteen years he got the last time, and it was quite a write-up the papers gave me for catching him."

It began to dawn on me then who the man was. He must be an ex-policeman employed as the restaurant lounge or house detective.

"You're sure Miss Kelly and Lefty Moore's wife are the same person?"

"I've reasons for not forgetting her."

She was with him that time when I took him. I've got the marks of her nails in my face yet. It's her all right, even if she has gone to work as Miss Kelly while Lefty's doing his stretch. She's a bad one, she is."

"Is she a crook, too?" I asked excitedly.

I was trying to measure up the importance of this astounding bit of information. Already my deductions had convinced me that some kind of criminals was in collusion with someone in the apartment who was carrying out their plots against the Bradfords and me. I had been thinking of an apartment surreptitiously tenanted by a criminal gang.

How much more likely that an employee of the place was in the pay of the plotters! And now to learn that the telephone girl was, if not a criminal herself, at least the associate of criminals.

"She's got no record that I know of," the detective admitted, "but she couldn't be Lefty Moore's wife without being a crook herself."

"That helps explain things," I said more to myself than to him.

"The pearls!" she gasped, turning white.

"You're going to send him the Gaston pearls?"

"There was a note of amazement, of incredulity in her tone."

"Excuse me," she said, rising unexpectedly, "I gotta telephone."

Before I could gather my wits together she had vanished, leaving me sitting there, staring after her in dismay.

What did she—the telephone girl—know about the Gaston pearls? How could she possibly know that they were missing? I had told no one—no one except Barbara Bradford—about the riddled wall safe.

How could her excitement and perturbation be accounted for except by the fact that she knew of their loss? I was sitting there, puzzling over her mysterious conduct, when I became aware that a man was standing beside my table, glaring down at me. I looked up, expecting to see the waiter, or head waiter. Instead it was a man in a dinner jacket, a stocky, broad-shouldered chap with a close-cropped gray mustache.

"You've got your nerve," he sneered at me.

"Bringing a woman of that sort here."

"A woman of what sort?" I asked eagerly, surprised to find someone in a place of this sort who knew the Bradfords' telephone girl.

"Why, Lefty Moore's wife, of course."

"I don't understand," I replied, "I'm here with Miss Kelly."

"Oh, she told you that was her name, did she?"

"I know it's her name. She's the telephone girl in the apartment where I live—the Grandlock."

"I could see his manner toward me change at the mention of my abode, but he was still insistent about the identity of my companion."

"How well do you know her?" he asked.

"Well—I am afraid I colored, as I realized that his acquaintance with the girl was limited—I've been living there for a week or so and I've talked with her two or three times and—"

"I thought so," said my neighbor, "there's nothing to it. She's Lefty Moore's woman all right. If I'd seen her I'd have known it."

"I don't see how you could have known it," I said, with a new realization that I had been some mysterious agencies in the Grandlock.

"I'll be there," I said, as I bade him good night.

"Hold on a minute," he said. "Do you know where Lefty Moore's wife lives now?"

I recalled the number she had told me to give the taxi man and repeated it to him, an address way over on East Sixty-second street near the river.

"I like to know them sort of things," he explained. "In our business you never know when you'll be needing them."

On my way home, after I left him, I congratulated myself on having made James Gorman's acquaintance. In him I had found a man with police and detective experience. The fact that he held a responsible position with a big hotel ought to be sufficient voucher for his honesty. Of course Miss Bradford must be consulted before I met Gorman the next afternoon. I could hardly tell him my own almost unbelievable experiences without bringing in the attempts to blackmail her sister. Surely Miss Bradford would not object to my plan. We were making such poor headway in solving the mystery ourselves that I was certain she would welcome Gorman's advice.

And would it not be a surprise to Barbara Bradford to learn that a criminal—or at least the wife of a criminal—was employed as a telephone girl in the apartment house? I was

Cling to Savage Customs.
Throughout the Islands of the New Hebrides many of the primitive ceremonies are still performed. The "Shag" ground is still kept in readiness for the periodical outbursts of feeling, when the islanders dance his wild and sacred dances to the ghastly music of the drums. Watching one of these weird revels followed by an orgy of eating, or more correctly stuffing, it seems to the observer that the New Hebrides race is destined to continue until it dies out a savage, or, at best, semi-civilized people.

Snowstorms Form in Warm Climates.
Potentially snow storms form in general region of warmth, strange as it may seem. The area of low barometric pressure, or storm sea, comes whirling eastward across the Gulf states and then generally takes a twist northward along the Atlantic seaboard. When sufficiently far north these warm air currents are chilled and the moisture becomes snow, very often being borne to the earth by the back draft of east wind.

Not Slamming the Departed.
At a woman's meeting, a young person asked a member of the congregation if her husband was well. He replied the astounding reply: "Oh, he's been dead those last twenty years, praise the Lord!"

IF BACKACHY OR KIDNEYS BOTHER
Eat less meat and take a glass of Salts to flush out kidneys—Drink plenty water

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys they become overworked; get sluggish, ache and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush out the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

Eat less meat drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of oranges and lemon juice combined with lithia and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

This is a Short Letter, but it Brings a Message of Importance to every Woman.

Woodford, Vt.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills before my child was born and I did wonderful work for me. My baby weighed eight and one-half pounds when born and I did not suffer many pains. You can publish this letter if you wish for I would not your medicine before child birth."

—Mrs. J. J. L. B. B. B.

The reason why Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so successful in overcoming woman's ills is because it contains the tonic, strengthening properties of good old-fashioned roots and herbs, which act on the female organism. Women from all parts of the country are continually testifying to its strengthening, curative influence, and as it contains no narcotics or harmful drugs it is a safe medicine for women.

If you want special advice write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. confidentially, Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read, and answered by women only.

NEPONSET

For Buildings of All Kinds

For sloping roofs on residences, bungalows, or public buildings. Neponset Twin Shingles make as handsome a roof as it is possible to find anywhere and they are most economical.

Neponset Twin Shingles are impregnated with asphalt and heavily surfaced with green slate. No wonder they resist fire and rot. Their natural slate-red and slate-green colors are restful and beautiful.

They will not catch fire from falling sparks. Because they are two shingles in one and self-spacing, they require less labor and less nail to lay.

Water Power Wasted.
Alto Parana river, which discharges 10,000 cubic feet of water per second, and its many tributaries, could be harnessed to produce an important industrial power. The power of these waters is practically unknown, but is estimated to be in some places, 200 feet, and a force of 100,000 horsepower. The Igazu falls are even more powerful.

Wanted Blame Properly Placed.

Rosemary, aged four, and her twin sisters, aged two, were left in the care of a friend who also had three children of about the same ages. During the afternoon the friend heard one of the children in her pantry and thinking to frighten the child out of the pantry without going in, said: "I hear some one in my pantry." Rosemary quickly walked over to her and said: "It's not any of ours; it's one of your own."

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS CURWENSVILLE

The Evangelist, A. N. Salvie, will preach in the United Christian church Sunday, May 16, at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

Richard Lantz left yesterday afternoon for Pittsburgh, where he will spend the next few days transacting business relative to his automobile trade.

Samuel Smith, who resides over at the big finishing tannery, and who has been ill for many months with asthma and bronchial trouble, went to Clearfield Hospital yesterday for medical treatment. His many friends who work at the tannery hope for his speedy recovery.

The funeral of Miss Sarah Sweney was held from her late home yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Although the weather was extremely cold and blustery for this time of the year, a large number of friends assembled to pay the last tribute to one whom they loved in life and now mourn in death. The floral tribute, although not extravagant, was plentiful and tastefully arranged. An hour or so before the services were held many of her former school mates called for the last look at their associate and friend.

Squire James Caldwell came over from Tyrone yesterday, to attend the funeral of Sarah L. Sweney. The Squire is a great lover of children, and she was one of his favorites.

Hide shortage is narrowing work down at the Pennsylvania Hide and Leather company's plant, to a pretty small margin, compared to what was going on over there a year ago. There has been no "hanging in" of raw skins for over a month, which means that the yard is being slowly depleted of tanned leather, which is ready for the splitting machine and the finishing department.

At a meeting of citizens held in the Firemen's hall Thursday evening, a preliminary organization was made of a company to be known as the Curwensville Realty company, the aim and object of which is the erection of a number of tenement houses. The temporary officers chosen for the time being are: A. G. Woodward, president; Richard Lantz, secretary; Al McNaull, treasurer. A board of directors were also appointed. An effort will be made immediately to have the sum of $15,000 worth of bonds subscribed and pledged, and when this is accomplished, the organization will at once become a permanent one, and start right in to do business in the building line.

Mrs. Blaine Cleaver and children have gone to Williamsport, Md., for a visit with Mrs. Cleaver's mother, Mrs. Bert Miller.

Katherine Kephart, a daughter of Warren Kephart, South Side, was operated upon for appendicitis at the Clearfield Hospital last week. The operation was a successful one and the young lady is recovering from its effect splendidly.

The members of the Senior class of the P. G. High School, went down to the home of Carl Schrote, near River-view bridge, Thursday evening, and were royally entertained by that young man and his family. Young Schrote is a class member.

Sam P. Bressler has purchased an interest in the C. A. Rorabaugh insurance agency, and the business will hereafter be conducted under the name and title of "The C. A. Rorabaugh Agency."

Messrs. Charles McKenrick and John Kellar, hailing from Akron, Ohio, visited with relatives in town on Thursday.

Mrs. A. L. Carpenter, of Pittsburgh, is visiting with relatives at the Park House.

"Is The World Getting Better?" will be the subject of a sermon by Rev. J. C. Collins, pastor of the Methodist church, on Sunday morning. Some answer yes, and others answer no. What is your opinion on the subject? The pastor wants everybody to come and bring their opinions with them. A frank presentation of this important subject ought to be of profit to all. If the world is growing worse, who is to blame? If it is getting better, who is to receive credit?

Thomas Reay, a candidate for the assembly, on the Republican ticket, who hails from DuBois, was circulating among the Republican voters of Curwensville yesterday afternoon.

A little snow, a little hail and a little sunshine, was a variety of weather that visited Curwensville yesterday. Straw hats were thrown aside toward evening and the old reliable overcoat donned once more.

The members of J. Earl Sipes Post, No. 505, American Legion, has secured permanent quarters in a brick building located on corner of Meadow and Hubert streets.

"THE WISHING RING"

Tuneful musical numbers, brilliant dialogue, beautiful dancing and spectacular features, will make "The Wishing Ring," the bewitching musical extravaganza, one of the biggest hits of the season. With a cast of over one hundred dancers and singers, the opera will be staged at the Curwensville Opera House on May 17 and 19, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Presbyterian church. When the curtain rises on the beautiful, spectacular operetta, the probabilities are that the best audience that has ever assembled at the Opera House will be there to enjoy it. Advance sale has been fine and indicates capacity houses at all performances. M15-11-ch (Advt.)

Origin of the Jazz Band.

The jazz band idea, according to a French paper, originated in the time of the Directory. At the concerts of the Cat orchestra were twenty cats, heads in a row on the keyboard of a harpsichord. The performer by striking the keys pulled the cats' tails, causing a caterwauling which sounded like a jazz band.

MARY MILES MINTER

In

"Judy of Rogue's Harbor"

From the Famous Novel by Grace Miller White. Folks, you will like "Judy of Rogue's Harbor." You will laugh and cry over it. It's a big kindly story about every-day people who live in the sweet clean wholesome country atmosphere that you and everybody knows and loves. There are times when one's heart even wells up into his throat and the sobs come in spite of all the trying in the world to stop them. And the fact that Mary Miles Minter, queen of youth, portrays the role of the fascinating, tantalizing heroine, makes the picture doubly attractive.

WILSON—No need to explain who Wilson is. He's more notorious than leap year—and fully as dangerous. He's craftier than a twice-widow stalking her third victim; and stouter of heart than the man who marries her. You'll regret letting him make a get-away without seeing him! See the three of them in

After a long, hard winter such as we have just passed through it is only to be expected that our Borough will emerge from its coat of snow in a filthy condition.

This year the Borough is in an unusually filthy condition; this applies not only to the individual properties but streets and alleys as well.

On or about May 28th our town will be visited by the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce and the Board of Health feels that it would be very opportune if we can make a general clean up before this great delegation of business and professional men visit us.

Let us then designate the week of

MAY 27th TO 22nd

AS CLEAN UP WEEK and may we not have your co-operation in the matter? Let every citizen during that time clean up all cellars, yards, barns, out houses, etc., transport any and all rubbish to the Garbage dump which council has provided for us on Guinea Hill where it will be taken care of by the man in charge, between the hours of 8 a. m. and 5 p. m. so that we may have an attractive as well as a healthful place in which to live. This is YOUR town.

MOVIE STARS WILL VISIT CLEARFIELD NEXT THURSDAY

Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne, the famous motion picture stars, have returned to the spoken drama as Oliver Morosco stars. They will appear at the Driggs Theatre Thursday, May 20, in "The Master Thief," a powerful mystery play by Edward E. Rose, under Mr. Morosco's engagement. It is nearly nine years since Mr. Bushman appeared in a speaking role, and it is certain that there will be great local interest in his appearance. Before he went into pictures he had a wide experience in stock and touring companies.

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG

Don't stay gray! Nobody can tell when you darken gray faded hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients all ready to use, at very little cost. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful. This preparation is delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

Why Breathe Through the Nose?

Reasons for breathing through the nose instead of the mouth are: (1) to warm the air; (2) to moisten the air; (3) to remove the dust and germs; (4) to produce more suction in the chest, which helps draw blood into the lungs as well as air, thus helping the heart and more easily attaining second wind.

Banish Worry and Anxiety.
Many of those who have failed in life could have accomplished great things if they could only have kept themselves in harmony, if they could only have cut out of their lives the friction. The worry and the anxiety frittered away their energy and wasted their life forces.—Orison Swett Marden, in Chicago Daily News.

Breakfast for Doughboys.
The French cooks could never get in line with the American breakfast which was demanded by the American soldiers and others from this country who were called to France during the war. The French breakfast consists of a roll and coffee, while the American demanded eggs and bacon as well.

Oversupplied.
Helen was visiting at the home of an aunt where there are three men in the family. Her father being the only man in her family, the situation evidently interested her, and, thinking it over for a moment or two, she began to laugh and said: "My, such a lot of men in this house."

MRS. A. M. WRIGHT'S BROTHER DIES

David Roy Caldwell, notice of whose death appeared yesterday, was born in Tyrone in 1873 and was a son of David T. and Lucy A. F. Caldwell. All his life was spent in Tyrone. In his early manhood he was a clerk in the Templeton company stores and for several years has been operating a shoe store, corner of Logan avenue and Tenth street. He was united in marriage August 3, 1914, with Miss Dayse Stitt of Altoona, who survives with four children, Florence, Margaret, Rebecca and Kathryn. He is also survived by his parents, one brother and five sisters: William C. of Monango, N. D.; Mrs. Annie Lewis Wright, Clearfield; Mrs. Mary C. Kloss, of Cleveland, O.; Mrs. Margaret Burnham and Mrs. Nina C. Miller, of Tyrone, and Mrs. Helen Ray Black of Hartford, Conn.

He is the first of the family to pass away, the parents, all other children and grandchildren are living. He was a member of the Presbyterian church and was a highly respected business man and citizen. Funeral services conducted by Rev. C. R. Scafe, of the Presbyterian church, were held at the home, 610 South Washington avenue, Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Interment in East Lawn cemetery.

What Annoys Jud. Jud Tunkins says that as a rule he wouldn't object so much to seeing a man play a piano if he could keep from watching the expression of his face.

WAS BADLY RUN-DOWN FROM PNEUMONIA

Mrs. Wachburn quickly regained her strength and flesh.

"I had gripe, followed by pneumonia. It left me with a terrible soreness in my chest, constant pain in my throat and so weak and nervous I could neither eat nor sleep. I had a chill every morning."

"One day a young man told me how Milks Emulsion had got him out of bed and built him up after he had been reduced to a skeleton and given up by the doctors. So I tried it. I have gained in strength, appetite and flesh, sleep better than I have for years, am doing all my own work again and feel like a new person."

"The beauty about Milks Emulsion is that it doesn't wear out like most things, and is so pleasant to take. It is a food as well as a medicine and builds up the blood and tissue. It surely put new blood in my veins and I have the healthiest color I ever had."—Mrs. M. Wachburn, El Centro, Cal.

It costs nothing to try Milks Emulsion. It will build you up more quickly, more surely than anything else.

Milks Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, promotes appetite and puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are usually relieved in one day.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milks Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 60c and $1.20 per bottle. The Milks Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold by druggists everywhere. Guaranteed by Stewart's Drug Store.
